TRIM

OPERATIONAL SERIES

Collective life is a habit that emerged out of people's inherent need for each other. This instinct appears in today's work as the intellectual richness created by making decisions together, sharing responsibility, and exchanging ideas. When we designed this way of working in a suitable form for offices, we focused on forms without corners, inspired by communication. The sense of flexibility, the sense of trust and the collective sense of the cornerless structure are combined in the Trim model. Trim makes collective work enjoyable with its modern lines and design that does not neglect to create personal space. Catch the rhythm of comfortable and efficient working in your offices with Trim.

TRIM

Storage areas that eliminate the problem of private space for offices with collective workspaces. Reflecting the sense of flexibility and confidence of the angular structure, the collective working suitability was combined in the Trim model.
